

LOVE LESSONS FROM

farryl purkiss

This local crooner isn't just a talented piece of eye candy, he's also got some great advice on love!

1. be yourself

"I love a girl who's not afraid to bite into a big, messy burger in front of me, or who tries to wakeboard and totally eats it... then gets up and tries again. I like that."

2. don't be afraid to love

"A lot of people, including myself, have been in love and have been hurt when the relationship ended. Then, when the opportunity comes along to love again, they don't allow themselves to commit to that person because they're too scared. Life's too short."

3. be spontaneous

"As soon as you get into a routine, it tends to get monotonous. Surprise him with a candlelit dinner, plan a surprise romantic getaway, or even do something as simple as giving him a handwritten love letter every now and then."

4. be romantic

"My best date ever was a surprise dinner a girlfriend made for me on Valentine's Day. She set up my bedroom with candles and roses and a three-course meal. Her sister was our waitress. It was amazing."

5. love the goofball!

"I'm usually the guy who'll trip and fall on my face in front of a girl I like, or spill a cup of coffee on her or something. So, I guess, if I do something stupid in front of you, you know I'm into you."
